

Cotton Market Outlook and Risk Management

Eugen Weinberg / Michael Alt, Commerzbank, Frankfurt a.M., Germany

Eugen Weinberg joined Commerzbank in 2007 as Senior Commodity Analyst. Today, as the Head of Commodity Research, he is responsible for Commerzbank's Commodity Research products and provides with his team price analyses and forecasts for Commerzbank's financial partners and corporate clients.

Michael Alt has been part of Commerzbank's Commodities team since January 2007. Together with his team, he is responsible for the advisory of corporate clients in the commodities space and for the distribution of risk management solutions in the Base and Precious Metals, Energy and Carbon as well as Agricultural sectors.

In their presentation, Eugen Weinberg and Michael Alt from Commerzbank AG give an overview of what drives the commodities markets and provide an outlook for Cotton. They also address implications on market participants and discuss risk management solutions.
